FISE WORLD SERIES 2019 Wrapping up the FISE 2019 season in style!

Parks are set up, the Dirt track is shaped, riders have arrived! Only one day to go until we kick off the last stop of the year.

When: October 31st – November 4th

Where: Qing Shui He Ecological Art Park, Pidu District, Chengdu - China

At today's press conference the Leader of the Pidu District where the event is taking place said that "Sport is a common language for all people," and we have a host of sports on show for the people of Pidu in Chengdu to enjoy. Six major competitions are taking place: UCI BMX Freestyle Park and Flatland World Cups, WS Roller Freestyle World Cup, Skateboard Street, BMX Dirt and Breaking. Alongside the major contests riders and spectators can also enjoy many best trick contests and a host of festival activities which add to FISE's special atmosphere.

More than just a 4-day event, FISE has an impact in the Chengdu region all year long. Herve Andre Benoit, Hurricane CEO expressed his vision for the future:

"The goal is to spread our passion for action sports in every district in Chengdu, that is why we have built a Skate Park, opened a FISE Academy and this year added a brand new Pump Track built by Hurricane Tracks."

Always one of the most anticipated stops of the season, the pressure is on for athletes as it is their last chance to climb up the FISE World Series rankings. The stakes are especially high in the UCI BMX Freestyle Park World Cup as athletes battle to win vital points towards qualifying their country for the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games.

BMX rider Sergio Layos described how he has seen FISE grow from small beginnings to an Olympic Qualifying event:

"I have been attending FISE since its beginning in Palavas and it is amazing to see how it has grown. FISE has turned into THE event of the year and lead the way in bringing BMX to the Olympics".

Everything is set up to wrap up the 2019 season in style so make sure not to miss anything by checking the live schedule below.
