

LIVE TV & WEBCAST

The professional semi-finals and finals can be viewed globally live on www.fise.tv and the FISE official Facebook Page. In Japan they can be streamed via <https://abema.tv/>.

Footage will also be distributed around the world by our partner IMG – reaching more than one billion homes across every continent.

About IMG

IMG is the world's largest distributor and producer of sport media. We've built a prestigious portfolio of partners based on the strength of our capabilities.

IMG Media Distribution:

- Vast experience as demonstrated by unrivalled catalogue of sports events to include Wimbledon, The Open Championship and the English Premier League.
- A comprehensive solution to deliver the maximum distribution
- Global team in 30 countries, with a deep understanding of regional differences in media rights.
- An unrivalled and extensive global network of over 200 sales executives; every territory is individually negotiated to ensure an optimal return.
- Daily exchanges with over 4,000 key media contacts to ensure perfect positioning for global distribution.
- Developing tailor made distribution models.

IMG has been distributor of FISE World Series since 2014, contributing to the global growth of the brand by offering highlights and live performances on an extensive network of global broadcasters. Content coming directly from FISE World Series is broadcast on EDGEsport, the 24/7 channel which specialises in Action Sports. EDGEsport is now available in 25 areas across 6 continents and has a reach to more than 330 million homes.